

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this letter of reference for Kasey Greenhalgh. As news director, I think the best way to describe Kasey is to explain just how far she's grown in a very short time.

I always joke that I know for a fact Kasey "hated" me early on. I pushed her for solid, local story ideas in our editorial meetings.

I would rip apart the ones she did submit because I felt they weren't well researched. I really pushed her. And where many first-year journalists fold, Kasey excelled. She got to know every mover and shaker in this community.

I knew she had come around when, during an editorial, she was pulling phone numbers out of her iPhone contacts list for nearly every other reporter at the table to assist with their stories. She loves investigative work and we spent the better part of last year learning how to dig deep for the facts and hold people accountable. I'm sure her reel is filled with stories that illustrate that. And if she doesn't answer every question you have about any one of them, I'd be very surprised.

Kasey was my most improved journalist after just one year and quite frankly, one of maybe three I've seen develop so quickly into such a strong journalist during my career. You'll find ways to help her develop and grow but as a foundation, I think you'll be thrilled to have someone on-staff who knows the importance of serving the viewers'/users' best interests first. She'll work hard for you and I'm proud to recommend Kasey for your team.

To whom it may concern,

My name is Eric Bolling, host of Fox News Channel's The Five and Cashin' In. I also contribute as host of Fox & Friends, Bill O' Reilly's The Factor and Sean Hannity's show, Hannity. I am writing to you in my strong recommendation of Kasey Greenhalgh for a position with your news organization.

Kasey Greenhalgh worked with me while she was interning for the Fox News Channel in New York during the summer of 2011. Kasey's primary internship responsibilities were as an associate producer on our daily Fox & Friends show. As an intern for us, Kasey was given the same, demanding responsibilities as an employed associate producer for the Fox News Channel. Kasey distinguished herself by consistently performing every task given to her precisely as needed.

I immediately recognized Kasey's strong work ethic, drive, dedication and enthusiasm which made her stand out in the successful production of our shows. Kasey was always on time, and worked every shift within the news industry. Kasey regularly displayed her creativity to everyone by thinking outside the box and finding immediate solutions to make our news, stories and shows successful, informative and entertaining. Kasey was proactive and worked six days a week to gain the necessary skills to be successful in her career. Kasey was given the opportunity to provide the sports report during a live broadcast of Fox & Friends.

Kasey's passion for news and prior training were evident during the daily pitch meetings when we discussed and chose the most important or entertaining stories in which to produce and air. She was a versatile and reliable asset to the network and shows she worked for. Not only was she extremely professional, personable and friendly, but more importantly, Kasey knew how to build lasting relationships with everyone she communicated with.

As a young reporter and producer, Kasey has experience and a resume that exceeds her years. On the job, Kasey is fearless when asking tough or relevant questions and getting the real story. She is articulate and communicates very well in front of the camera. I have no doubt that Kasey will be recognized as one of your hardest working reporter-producers. I would personally welcome Kasey back at the Fox News Channel. I would highly encourage your consideration to hire Kasey Greenhalgh. I believe you would be very fortunate to have her on your respective news team.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to talk to you about Kasey Greenhalgh, who worked as an intern for WEDU through the Hillsborough Community College Communications Program from May 2010 until August 2010. Even after completing her internship, she continued to volunteer with us, providing assistance with various productions and events.

Kasey is inquisitive, bright, and hard-working no matter what task was presented. She learns quickly and is not afraid to ask questions or give input, and is extremely professional. She takes instruction well, and worked effectively as a member of the production crew.

She was with us for a standard internship, in both the production and communications department. She was conscientious, on time, and took her work very seriously. As a PBS station, our image of family and community is extremely important, and Kasey was an excellent representative of our values as she interacted with our media contacts, viewers and supporters.

Of course, the time always comes when we have to say good-bye to our interns, and Kasey is no exception. She has big plans for her future and we appreciate her periodic updates on her continued success. She is committed, and very dedicated to making a positive contribution to the world.

We are proud to have had the opportunity to work with Kasey, and have confidence that she will succeed on any path she chooses.

If you need any additional details or have any questions, please feel free to call me at 813.254.9338, ext. 2271.

Sincerely,
